<https://www.theboma.co.ke/the-boma-nairobi/>

Nairobi is the capital city of Kenya and the starting point for many bush safaris. Just over a century ago Nairobi was little more than a water depot for the notorious ‘Lunatic Express’. Nairobi which means ‘cool water’ in the language of the Maasai, is now the main gateway to East Africa and gives access not only to Kenya, but also Uganda and Tanzania. Nairobi is the only city in the world with a national park within its environs. Since it was founded a little over a century ago, the city has grown at a very fast rate.

DAY 2 - 31ST OCTOBER 2025:

Nairobi – Tsavo East National Park (Ithumba)

After an early morning breakfast, you will continue on your 2nd part of your Kenyan Elephant trip which will take you to the depths of Tsavo East National Park, the largest national park in Kenya. Arrival and check in will just be in time for lunch. Enjoy a short rest in the early afternoon. At 16h50, your driver guides will drive you to Ithumba’s SWT stockade to visit the orphaned Elephants at the stockade for a 1-hour period from 18h00 as well as the elephants’ sleeping quarters. Return back to camp after the stockade visit for the night. Dinner & Overnight at Ithumba Hill Camp on Full Board Basis.

Tsavo East National Park is a gem among the world’s wild spaces. Spanning 13,747 square kilometers of pristine wilderness, it is the most extensive protected area in Kenya. It is also host to greater biodiversity than any other park in the world, as it is here that the northern and southern forms of fauna meet. David Sheldrick was the founding Warden of Tsavo East from 1949 to 1976. Under his leadership, the park was transformed from an inhospitable land into what is today Kenya’s largest and most famous National Park.

Ithumba is located in the Northern area of Tsavo East National Park. David Sheldrick himself described Ithumba as the “Jewel in the Crown.” The area covers 3,000 square kilometers and is completely devoid of the human footprint, giving way to a vast array of wildlife. It is home to some of Kenya’s most spectacular species, both Large elephant herds wallowing in the mud, Giraffes striding across the plains and small Hyrax peeking through the rocks and Dik-Diks scampering through the bush. Ithumba Hill sits perched above it all, giving guests a unique vantage point into one of Kenya’s most remarkable wild spaces.

DAY 3 - 1ST NOVEMBER 2025:Ithumba (Tsavo East National Park)

Your 2nd day in Ithumba will begin with an early morning visit to Ithumba's SWT stockade to visit the orphaned Elephants at the stockade for a 1-hour period from 06h00. During the 6am visit, the Keepers will feed the milk dependent orphans and once the orphans are ready, they leave with their Keepers to spend the rest of their day, browsing in the bush.

At 07h00, you will return to camp for breakfast and a short rest. From 10h50, you will go back to the Ithumba stockade for a mud bath visit which takes place at one of the water holes within the area. At this time, the Keepers feed the younger orphans who are still milk dependent, whilst the older orphans take a break from their browsing to have their fill of water from the waterhole. Sometimes they spend time wallowing in the mud (weather dependent) and enjoy dusting themselves with red soil that is prominent in the Tsavo Conservation Area. Occasionally the orphans are joined by ex-orphans and their babies, and other wild elephant herds too during the mud bath visit

After the mud bath visit, you will go back to camp for lunch. At 14h00, your driver guide will take you for an afternoon game drive in Tsavo East National Park enroute to the Ithumba SWT stockade for the 5pm visit. At 5pm, the Keepers and the orphans return to the stockades to retire for the night. Again, the Keepers feed the younger orphans who are still milk dependent, whilst the older orphans have their fill of water from our man-made water trough, before retiring for the evening. At this time, sometimes ex orphans and wild herds may also visit the stockade to stop at the water trough before they depart for the night.

THE DAVID SHELDRIK ELEPHANT SANCTUARY, NAIROBI

One of the most interesting places to visit while in Nairobi, the sanctuary hosts orphaned and abandoned baby elephants from various regions in Kenya and raises the baby elephants until they are 2 – 3 years old before the process of re-integrating them back into the wild with the other wild elephants begins. Visitors to the sanctuary are welcome to foster the baby elephants at their discretion where funds raised from the adoption are used to cater for their care in the sanctuary.

The Sheldrick Wildlife Trust re-introduced the Private visits after easing of the spread of the covid pandemic. The private viewing is roughly about 45 minutes long as you spend half an hour with the elephant orphans and then 15 minutes to go up and see Maxwell the resident blind black rhino. During this time, you would be able to experience a personalized encounter with both the orphans' and their Keepers. The Senior Keeper from the Trust will be present to explain about the Project and the individual rescue stories of each elephant orphan in the Nursery and Maxwell.

David Sheldrick Elephant Sanctuary was established in 1977 by the Late Dame Daphne Sheldrick in honor of her husband, David Sheldrick who was the pioneer warden in Tsavo East National Park. Daphne Sheldrick dedicated her life towards Wildlife conservation efforts in Kenya by setting up the Sheldrick Wildlife Trust (SWT) to oversee wildlife conservation efforts in Kenya. The Nairobi Nursery is their most popular establishment to date which attracts dozens of visitors every day for a 1-hour public visit from 11h00 to 12h00 except Christmas day. During the visit, one gets to see the orphaned baby elephants and learn their names, where they came from, how they were rescued from their place of origin and the conservation efforts undertaken by the Sheldrick Wildlife Trust to ensure the baby elephants are returned back into the Wild when they are old enough to live on their own.
